TRACK MEN OUT TO WIN ONCE MORE

Meet at Toronto This Afternoon

GOOD PROSPECTS

"We'll Do Our Best," Says Van Wagner in Parting

At 1.30 to-day the McGill Track Team will once more defend the cup emblematic of the track championship, which has been in their possession since 1913. Last year about this time the McGill athletics completely swamped the Varsity representatives, their only competitors, at the home Stadium. This year they expect a harder job ahead of them, as several of last year's stars have graduated, and the entrance of a team from Queens will increase the competition.

However the seventeen men who left for Toronto on Thursday morning form an aggregation not to be despised, and ought to return victorious as in former years. Owing to the excellent coaching of "Van" the team is in the pink of physical condition, and every man is ready to expend every ounce of energy in him to win points for his team.

In short dashes Patterson and Mitchell are expected to make a good account of themselves. Legg, last year's star, is counted a sure win in the half and possibly in the quarter mile. Rubin and Hart are both excellent mile men while at the three mile Wiggins is to be counted on. Kennedy is a record holder in the high and broad jump, and is expected to clean up in these events. In the weight events Kennedy, Amaron, and Friedman are the mainstays of the team. The four men for the relay are to be picked from Legg, Tail, Walker, Patterson, Kennedy and Hurd.

As the Intercollegiate Tennis Championship are being run off this week, and the Queens and Varsity Rugby Teams are meeting on the latter's stadium on Saturday this week end ought to be a very interesting one at Toronto.

Coch Van Wagner's last words as the train bearing the team pulled out of the station reflected the spirit of them all, "Well!" he said in reply to wishes for success, "We'll do our best!"

FIRST JAZZ TEA OF SEASON TO-DAY

Adney's Orchestra Will be Musicians for Occasion

Today at 5 p.m. the doors of the Union Swing open to the sound of symphony which ushers in the first Jazz tea of the year.

Music for every mood—from the poppy syncopation for those that seek a mental bracer after a week's concentration—to the dreamy waltz that lures back enchanting moments. The management is prepared for the throng of pleasure seekers who take advantage of these occasions for healthy relaxation, and informal and congenial social intercourse.

Jazz teas were extremely popular at McGill last year attracting crowds which filled to capacity the cafeteria of the Union. It is the opinion of the Union House Committee that these functions will hold a similar place in college life in the coming winter.

Forestry School Dean Elected

Henry Solon Graves, a graduate of Yale in the class of 1892, today was elected provost of Yale University, to succeed Wilbur L. Cross. Mr. Graves is dean of the School of Forestry and will continue to occupy this position. He was formerly chief of the United States Forestry Service.

Mr. Graves will be second only to President Angell in the ranking of University officials. To form a link between the University and Yale co-operation on educational policy, is the purpose of his position.

CLASS PRESIDENTS

All Class Presidents who have not already done so are reminded that they must hand in their returns for the sale of tickets for the Oxford-McGill Debate at once to the Union Porter.

APPEAL MADE FOR SUPPORT OF THE S.C.A.

Financial Aid Needed to Carry on Work

CAMPAIGN

Duties Fulfilled by Association Are Many

The Student Christian Association is launching a campaign on October 24-25-26 for financial aid; an appeal to the many who have already benefited by it and those who will in future, to give an helping hand to an organization which has the very best interests of the student, at heart.

As their share, the students are asked to contribute $1,500 towards the upkeep of the Association. This amount is by no means all that is needed; the remainder is subscribed by citizens who are interested in the work and realize its value.

The work of the S. C. A. is often regarded lightly by those who have not become acquainted with its broad scope. Nevertheless it is being carried on for the welfare of the student body by men and women who sacrifice much time and effort in doing it.

Strathcona Hall is used extensively by clubs and societies for meetings. The fact that seventeen or eighteen different societies engaged the hall for this purpose during last year will give an idea how extensive its use is.

The S. C. A. is governed by a board of directors and a Triumvirate composed of H. R. C. Avison B. A., P. S. Howes, and Errol C. Amaron. Their motto is, "By the students, for the students." For the session 1923-24 a list of estimated expenditures has been drawn up which shows that even if $1,500 is contributed by the students there will still remain about $1,100 to be obtained from other sources.

The proposed budget is as follows:
Printing and Stationery ... $75.00
Office Supplies ... 30.00
Postage etc. ... 70.30
Reading Room ... 65.00
Religious ... 100.00
Social ... 125.00
Conference ... 250.00
Missions ... 400.00
National ... 1500.00
$2615.00

There are many phases to the work of the S. C. A. Newcomers to the University often incur much inconvenience in securing suitable rooms. To help them out in this difficulty the Association, before the college term opens, sends out men to inspect prospective rooms, and if they are considered suitable for a student they are recommended to him on application. Last Sept. 1062 of such were inspected.

At the beginning of each session a Conversat is held at the Hall in an attempt to have undergraduates become acquainted in a congenial atmosphere. (Continued on page 3)

MR. ROSE IS THE SPEAKER AT CAN. CLUB

Subject: Condition of Affairs in Europe

RHODES SCHOLAR

On a Lecture Tour in Canada and U. S.

Mr. William Rose M.A. (Oxon), a scholar of note, and a man who has gained a real insight into the factors which are influencing political and economic developments in Europe, will be the speaker at the first meeting of the McGill Canadian Club, to be held in the Convocation Hall next Tuesday at 5 p.m.

Although a Canadian by birth, Mr. Rose has spent a good deal of his life on the Continent, for the most part by his own choice, for a time involuntarily, for he was interned for a period during the Great War.

Mr. Rose has a long list of accomplishments to his credit which have won him fame and recognition as an authority on subjects of world-wide interest. He was the first Rhodes scholar sent to Oxford from the Province of Manitoba. In 1912 he was appointed to the position of Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Poland. It was while in this country at the outbreak of the war that he was interned. In the field of literature he has shown eminent talent, translating a book written by the famous Polish philosopher, Political Economist and Social reformer, August Cieszkowski, entitled, "The Desire of All Nations." This, itself, was a task of no mean difficulty. Mr. Rose has written, since the war period, an article headed, "Europe in Travail," for the Associated Press, New York. At present, he is touring Canada and the United States lecturing.

The Canadian Club executive, last year, was fortunate in securing as speakers, men who rank among the greatest in the land. As a consequence, the Convocation Hall was more than filled at each meeting. It is the hope of the present members to follow up in the same manner and by having such an eminent personage as Mr. Rose, to hold the interest of the students in the Club without an difficulty.

FAMOUS CONVERSAT DUE AGAIN TO-NIGHT

Record Crowd Expected at Popular Annual Event

The opening social event of the season of equal interest to both the men and women students of McGill comes tonight in the form of the Conversat, at Strathcona Hall. Preparations are being made to provide entertainment for a crowd of at least last year's proportions, and it is expected that the record of seven hundred students, present then will be exceeded before this evening's program is concluded.

For men or women who have enjoyed the Conversats, in years gone by, no word of description is required. Perhaps some explanation of procedure will be welcomed by the first year students, however, and as this Conversat, was designed particularly for them, they should be enlightened. The easiest method of description is to say that the Conversat, is the same in all particulars as an informal dance with the one difference that conversation takes place the place of dancing.

Both the chaps and the girls wear name cards, and have regular programmes. The entire Cabinet of the R. V. C. will be present and in conjunction with the S. C. A. Board of Directors will welcome the crowd, and make everyone really feel at home.

Everyone in the University is invited. Refreshments will be served and there will be several musical selections.

The Daily will bulletin the results of the track meet and the second day's tennis play in the lobby of the Union as soon as the results are received in the office. The tennis results should be received early in the evening and it is expected that those of the track meet should arrive about nine o'clock.

Dangerous thing electricity. How come? Hear about the man who went into the Electric Lunch? He got a roll with a current in it—and the shock killed him—Manitoba.

ECHOES FROM THE MCGILL-VARSITY GAME.

To-day the McGill-Varsity Game is a thing of the past, only a memory in the minds of those who saw it. Yet the echoes are still being heard in the realms of sport and a few from Toronto have reached the offices of the Daily. In the first two issues of the week of the Varsity special references are made to Saturday's magnificent struggle in the columns devoted to sporting comment and in every instance the remarks are extremely favorable. The warm feelings of friendship between McGill and Toronto are emphasized and special stress is laid upon the spirit of sportsmanship, which was prevalent throughout the contest.

The Daily takes this opportunity of reprinting several of these statements. They cast a light on the feelings which exist in the home of the Blue and White and their production may help to maintain, foster and strengthen the friendship which already exists between Canada's greatest universities.

Monday's Varsity, for instance, stated: "The game last Saturday has been won and lost but that game stands for far more than a win or a loss in intercollegiate rugby. It was one of the cleanest games of rugby ever played. Each individual player on both sides gave his best and gave it cleanly and fairly. It is games such as this that should be held up as the standard for intercollegiate sport of every sort. We have many wonderful examples of such sportsmanship to live up to, and we've got to do because if true sportsmanship such as that of last Saturday cannot be found in the universities of Canada, there will be little use of looking elsewhere for it."

And in Tuesday's issue we find: "The opening fixture which year between Varsity and McGill is always demonstrative of the quality of sportsmanship exhibited by the two universities. The players play football hard, play it fierce, play it harder than any other teams in Canada; yet they play it clean. In defeat McGill this year as last, showed that they are gentlemen and sportsmen to the very last. They passed the stiffest test of a sportsman—the ability to play clean and lose well at all times—with flying colours and although the Red and White went down to defeat McGill should be proud of her squad of pigskin warriors."

"And this year," continues the Varsity, "we are proud to think that the men who wear the Blue and White can win like gentlemen and sportsmen. And queerly enough we derive more satisfaction from the sportsmanlike conduct of the team Saturday than from its decisive victory."

The Toronto publication has complimented McGill highly and we sincerely thank The Varsity for the warm sentiments which it has shown. It has also expressed great ideals regarding the standard required in intercollegiate athletics and the undergraduates in the university of the Queen City may rest assured that McGill will strive continually to live up to the highest only. The best is not too good and less than the best is useless.

CONDENSED COMMENT

We are pleased to learn that the executive of the Sophomore Year in Arts is taking immediate action regarding the unfortunate case of initiation mentioned in yesterday's Daily. A thorough investigation is promised and it is hoped that judgment will be delivered quickly and everything possible in the way of justice obtained.

"We'll do our very best," said Coach Van Wagner, as the track team left yesterday morning for Toronto and the Intercollegiate meet. This is the spirit that has held the championship at McGill since 1914 and it is the spirit that should help the McGill athletes to stand the supreme test to-day. Here's to the track men when they meet their opponents in this afternoon's meet!

Yesterday's reports from Toronto brought joy into the hearts of the supporters of McGill's tennis squad. Three of the Red and White players are in the semi-finals in the singles and our score in the first day's play was double that of any one opponent. The prospects for a repetition of past successes could not be brighter and it is almost safe to predict that McGill will retain the titular honors.

There is still plenty of time for new men to turn out with the Harrier squad at the stadium and at the same time with excellent opportunities of making the McGill team which will compete with the Toronto, Queen's and R. M. C. teams when they line up early in November, at Toronto. Coach Van Wagner deserves the support of every McGill student who is qualified to take up this branch of athletics. The cups donated for the interfaculty meet are expressions of the interested graduates and friends of the university take in this sport.

WRESTLERS HELD LIVELY WORKOUT

A snappy hour was what the wrestlers put in at the Union Ball Room at 5 o'clock last night.

Work really started for the year when Coach Smith, who for years has been McGill Wrestling Coach, appeared on the scene and calling the men around him, gave a short talk on "Wrestling as an Art". Mr. Smith explained how, of all games wrestling requires the greatest skill and that is not strength but co-ordination, co-ordination of muscle with muscle and muscle with mind that wins.

The need for heavy men is still urgent. Rumble, the Intercollegiate and Quebec champion is out but the 163 pound class is sadly lacking. There is as well a need for very light men and once more the call is sent forth for the old men to turn out and help produce a team that will do honour to the name of old McGill.

FACULTY CLUB HOLD MEETING

Organizing Committee Formed—Membership to be Limited

The organizing committee of the Faculty Club is composed of the following:— Dr. Leacock, Dr. Martin, Dr. D. A. Murray, Professor Traquair, Professor J. McKay, Colonel Thompson, Dr. Thornlon, Dr. Rutan, Colonel Bovey, Dr. D. A. Frazer and A. P. S. Glasco convenor.

On account of the limited accommodation it was decided to restrict the membership, for the present, to male members of the administrative and teaching staff.

An unanimous vote of thanks was passed to the benefactor who made it possible for the club to purchase the property on University Street. It appears that the club had been contemplating buying a house on University Street but lacked sufficient funds. Some anonymous person hearing this, kindly offered a sum of money for the purpose. This offer indeed seemed like a gift from the gods and was certainly very much appreciated. The house will cost a little more than was expected but the Governors have offered to make up the difference.

THREE MCGILL RACKET MEN FIGHT THROUGH TO TENNIS SEMI-FINALS IN TORONTO

Brilliant Play Marks Opening of Intercollegiate Tourney—

Six Points, Toronto Three, Queen's Three and Montreal One.

McGill got away to a flying start in the Intercollegiate Tennis fixture at Toronto yesterday when three McGill men won their matches in the first round and then advanced to the semi-finals. Wright, Morrice and Leslie fought their way through the first two rounds, while Ramsay, the other McGill entry was eliminated by Scott of Toronto, who in turn was defeated by Cross of Queen's in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

In the first round, Jack Wright, McGill star and Davis Cup player, met Endicott of Toronto and won in straight sets, although they were by no means easy ones, the score being 6-5, 6-4.

McAlachlan of Queen's defeated Rainville from the University of Montreal in a three set match, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3. Charlie Leslie, the junior champion of the Dominion, who was playing third man for McGill took the first set from Beauchemin of the U. of M. in easy fashion, 6-1, but was pushed to the limit in the second, barely nosing his opponent out by a score of 8-5.

Another three set match was played between Grey of Toronto and Jones of Queen's, the former coming from behind after losing the first set 6-4, and taking the other two 6-4, 7-5.

Morrice had little trouble with Dunlop of Queen's, defeating him 6-0, 6-0. Ham, the Toronto star defeated his opponent Roy, U. of M., 6-2, 6-4, while Scott, Toronto, was winning from Ramsay, 6-2, 8-6. Ramsay was outclassed in the first set but came back hard in the second making it a very interesting match.

Cross, the Queen's man, who has reached the semi-finals, beat Gravel, U. of M., 10-8, 7-5 in a close match.

In the second round, Wright had a somewhat harder match with MacAlachlan, winning 6-4, 10-8. Leslie won from Grey, 6-4, 7-5, while Cross disposed of Scott, 6-1, 6-2.

The best match of the day was in the second round when Morrice and Ham of Toronto fought out three thrilling sets. Morrice took the first after a struggle, 7-5. Ham then won the second in very close games, 8-6, while in the third, Morrice walked away from the Toronto star defeating him 6-2.

This match produced tennis of a really high standard and kept the spectators on their feet from the beginning till the end.

Only one doubles match was played in which Gravel and Roy, U. of M., defeated Jones and Dunlop of Queen's 6-1, 3-6, 6-2.

The prospects certainly look very bright for McGill with three men in the semi-finals, but Cross of Queen's showed that he is no novice at the game by his easy defeat of Scott, after the latter had beaten Ramsay.

According to the system of points—a point being awarded to each University for one win—McGill have a decided advantage so far, having obtained six while Varsity and Queen's have three each and U. of M., one.

Today will see the finals reached in both singles and doubles, with Wright playing Leslie in singles and Morrice matched against Cross. This last ought to be an excellent game. In the doubles, McGill will pin its hopes on Wright and Morrice or the two Browns, Wright and Morrice being picked as the probable winners. The finals will be played off on Saturday morning and the players will return to Montreal the same night.

The following is the result of the first day's play:

First Round.
Wright, McGill vs. Endicott, Toronto, 6-5, 6-4.
McAlachlan, Queen's vs. Rainville U. of M., 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Leslie, McGill vs. Beauchemin, U. of M., 6-1, 8-5.
Grey, Toronto vs. Jones, Queen's 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.
Morrice, McGill vs. Dunlop, Queen's, 6-0, 6-0.

Ham, Toronto vs. Roy, U. of M., 6-2, 6-4.
Scott, Toronto vs. Gravel, U. of M., 6-2, 8-6.

Cross, Queen's vs. Gravel, U. of M., 10-8, 7-5.

Second Round.
Wright, McGill vs. McAlachlan, Queen's, 6-2, 10-8.
Morrice, McGill vs. Ham, Toronto, 7-5, 6-8, 6-2.

Cross, Queen's vs. Scott, Toronto, 6-1, 6-2.

Doubles.
Gravel and Roy, U. of M. vs. Jones and Dunlop, Queen's, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

SAILORS WIN HARD FOUGHT SOCCER GAME

College Men Lose to
S. S. Canada
McGILL HEAVIER
Sailors Outclass Home Team
in Every Department

In a clean fast game on the Old Campus yesterday afternoon the McGill soccer team went down to defeat before the star aggregation from the S. S. Canada by a score of 4 goals to 1. The visitors had control of the game from start to finish, and displayed decided superiority in every department. Although the McGill team was by far the heavier one they were unable to use their extra weight to any great advantage, their tiny opponents stepping in and out without any difficulty. The sailors too were the faster team, and literally made circles around the bewildered collegians.

In spite of the one sidedness the game was fast and exciting throughout. Over and over the sailors would bring the ball close to the goal posts only to be checked by the McGill defence. Occasionally the McGill men would break away but they usually lost the ball before they had a chance to kick. The visitors displayed excellent combination, completely outclassing the home team in that department. Although they were defeated great credit is due to the McGill team for the plucky fight which they put up. As this was the first game of the season and they had had practically no practice together beforehand little in the way of combination could be expected. Every man did his best and surprisingly few blunders were made.

The game commenced at 4.30 p.m. The sailors immediately rushed the ball to the region of the McGill goal and kept it there for the greater part of the first half. The first goal for the sailors was scored shortly after the whistle blew on a clever corner kick. A few minutes later, following a neat bit of combination, the ball again sneaked between the posts. The period closed without any further score.

In the second half the McGill men began to show the effects of their lack of training, and their goal was besieged with kicks. Easterbrook, the McGill goal tender made several brilliant saves but was forced to let in another goal. McGill's only point was made about the middle of the second half, when Seaton ran over half the length of the field to score. Darkness began to fall very rapidly trytowards the end of the period, and consequently the play was rather ragged. Another goal was scored by the sailors, and Seaton made another brilliant try, before the game ended with the sailors leading 4-1.

"Tarry" and Doyle starred for the winners, while Seaton was best for the losers.

FROSH FORGIVE ALL PAST ABUSE

To Dine Sophomores at Union Next Thursday

The evening of Thursday October 25th is going to be a festive one for all the freshman and Sophomore years. For on that evening the freshmen are going to forget all their grievances against the sophomores.

Arrangements are being made to dine their lords and masters the hold the banquet at the McGill Union Cafeteria. The affair promises to be the largest of its kind held here for a good many years, as the different faculties are uniting, whereas formerly they held separate banquets. Between 650 and 700 students are expected.

Freshmen are going to have a grand time before the feast the cap-burning on the campus to celebrate the end of their bondage and their acceptance as full fledged students of McGill University. After that procedure the restrictions which have been placed upon freshmen will go out of effect.

Today the presidents of the various freshman years are going to place the situation before the students for their approval. As less than a week remains for preparations to be made it is absolutely necessary that every man pay his share by Monday Oct. 22nd.

Some time after Mr. Toodles had inquired at the library for the book, "The Girl He Left Behind Him," Mrs. Toodles to her great alarm found the following postcard in the mail, "Mr. Toodles is notified that the girl he left behind him is now in the library and will be kept for him till next Tuesday."

FENCERS HAVE LARGE TURNOUT

Off for Good Start at Preliminary Practice.

Over forty men were present at the initial practice of the Fencing Club, held yesterday at 5 p.m. in the Union ball-room. This is the largest turnout the club has experienced. Although the majority of those present have had no previous experience, yet if eagerness and enthusiasm are to count for anything, the prospects for the fencing team look bright.

As Professor Raimondi, who is to coach the class, was not present, H. L. Silverstone, a member of last year's intercollegiate team, took charge. He gave some elementary instruction in the art of fencing. Beginning with the proper method of holding the foil, those present were then shown two proper set to, how to advance and the simple parries. Most of those present easily grasped these fundamental principles, and practised them until perspiring freely. Among those who were practising, there was much promising material, which shows possibilities of forming a strong team.

As fifty new foils and also new jackets and masks are expected the beginning of next month, there will be enough outfits for many new men.

Practices are to be held every Monday and Thursday at 5 p.m. at the Union until the end of the rugby season. Thereafter, they are to be held at the Field House where more ample and suitable accommodation will be provided.

A freshette boarded the midnight car. No seats were vacant, nor straps. And as they hit the different curves she sat in different laps.

The bridge once crossed, the curves grew worse. And someone asked with a smile. Of a passenger on the other side, "How many laps to the mile."

Wife (from above): "I'll be ready in a minute."
Hubby (a little later): "No hurry now, dear, I've got to shave again."

mosphere. The popular Sunday night sings are conducted throughout the session and special musical features presented at them whenever possible. A reading room is provided on the second floor of the hall where students may drop in at any time through the day or evening and comfortably enjoy a quiet hour or two of reading. In this same room the sings are held as well as discussion groups on Social, Religious or International questions. A freshman reception is always held with the purpose of instilling in the newcomers the fact that there are many who are willing to lend them a helping hand at a period of great change in their lives.

A special feature of the work is in connection with the Y. M. C. A. Mission in Ceylon. Murray Brooks, a graduate of McGill is in charge of this which includes about sixteen stations in the Island. In 1921 Mr. Brooks came back on leave and in telling of his work over there instilled in the S. C. A. supporters an increased desire to furnish him with the means of carrying on his good work. He is entirely supported by students and graduates of McGill.

Besides these there are many minor duties fulfilled by the Association which go unnoticed by the mass but which, nevertheless, produce their good results.

As leaders in the campaign from the various faculties, the following men have been chosen:

Arts: J. Bethel; Comm.: H. Galley; Med.: J. Ross; Sci.: W. P. Malone; Dent.: W. S. Swetnam; Law: G. B. Puddicombe; P. C.: Wm. R. Wilson; Congo: E. B. Eddy; Wesleyan: W. S. Milley; H. D. Squires.

THOMPSON AUTORIFLE SHOWS ITS EFFICIENCY

One of the new Thompson autorifles of the type of which the Ordnance Department has ordered twenty for Government test, appeared during the closing week at Camp Perry, Ohio, and gave a very promising account of itself. Over a thousand rounds were fired at ranges from 600 to 1,000 yards without malfunction. Firing at 1,000 yards, Maj. J. J. Hyde, O.R.C., U.S.A., former Palma team instructor, scored eight bull's-eyes and two fairs out of ten shots in forty-five seconds.

The new Thompson rifle was the subject of universal favourable comment by reason of its accuracy and simplicity. The same mechanism is used in both shoulder and machine rifle types. They markedly resemble the present Springfield rifle and are of very light but rugged construction.

MERMEN LOSE INITIAL GAME OF SCHEDULE

Both teams in Poor Condition

SCORE 4-3

M. A. A. Blues Maintain
Winning Streak.

McGill intermediate water-poloists lost their first game in the league to the M. A. A. Blues last night at the Rubenstein Baths, the score being 4-3.

Both teams put up a very good game but showed their lack of condition before the end of the first half. The opening period was quite fast, Vickerson scoring by a pass from Bethel during the first two minutes of play. M. A. A. were not long in catching up however Bruker making a fine throw from the centre and scoring again just before the bell.

In the second period McGill again opened up well. Forsythe who was at the McGill end passed the ball to Vickerson, the latter passing it on to Bethel who placed it in the net. M. A. A. came right back strong however and put themselves ahead again by a goal scored at the hands of Rogers. During this period one of the M. A. A. men was seized with cramps and had to retire from the game for the rest of the period. McGill evened the line up by removing a man. The score at the end of the half stood 3-2 in favour of M. A. A.

The next two periods were rather slow and listless, both teams tiring fast, only one goal was scored in each period. M. A. A. scoring in the third and McGill in the last.

On the whole the game was well played and was very clean, neither side receiving any penalties. The size of the tank was a big advantage as it made the play more open.

The line-up was as follows:—

CORRESPONDENCE

The Editor,

McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—In connection with the letter which appeared in the Daily this morning, the executive of Arts '26 have a statement to make.

They intend to make a thorough and unparisping investigation of the whole case. The offenders will be brought before the Students' Council, who will deal with them as they see fit. Should the offence be found to lie elsewhere, it is hoped that the honour of the Arts Sophomores will be cleared by the incorrect implication.

Yours truly,

C. L. Copland,
Secretary, Arts '26.

To the Editor,

McGill Daily.

Sir:—After the game on Saturday I was much astounded to hear someone deriding the game as rotten, refuting the arguments of some football players whose judgment can be relied on. This man wore a red and white sweater: is it possible such a person does exist in the college, one who will deliberately show such a poor spirit? When one considers the hard work and good showing made by Doug MacGregor's squad it is not sickening to listen to such a person. I hope this may encourage action on the part of any future listeners to similar episodes. Down with "all crabs".

Cliff Scofield,
Science II.

Editor,

McGill Daily.

Sir:—The debate last night on the League of Nations was won by the side which had the stronger and better position to uphold. Although the criticism levelled at the League of Nations by our fellow students was very powerful, it could not invalidate the humble and modest plea of its defenders that "it has done some good and done no harm." It was on the strength of this unassuming claim that the League of Nations was upheld. It seems to me, Sir, that our Transatlantic friends could have won a far more decisive victory had they seen fit to urge that the present weakness of the League—upon which the Negative laid telling emphasis—was due largely to the fact that it was not receiving the support of all the nations. Had the Affirmative availed itself of this simple argument, the sledgehammer blows of the local champions would very largely have spent themselves on the air. The main contention of the negative was that the League of Nations is unworthy it has not brought international peace. The Affirmative could have side-stepped this very neatly by calmly pointing out that the League has not been able to establish international peace precisely because it has not had the support of all the nations. It would not have been difficult for them to show a priori that the League, if supported by the enormous power and prestige of the United States, and sincerely backed by France and also by Russia, would be in a position of tremendous importance, and could very reasonably be expected to achieve its purpose. The proposition "Resolved that the League is worthy of the support of all the nations" is theoretical as well as practical, and our fellow Imperialists should not have permitted the discussion to centre only around the League as it is at present, without the support of all the nations. They would have been justified in forcing the question. What would the League be like if it did have the support of all the nations? They would have had no difficulty in answering that question to their own favor.

Bernard Cohen,
Arts '24

The Editor,

McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—I wish to bring to your attention a fact that must have been striking to those present at the debate the other night in R. V. C. In closing we did not sing the National Anthem. It is sung before all our big intercollegiate rugby games and played at the close of every evening's entertainment in the theatre; so why should we leave it out of the programme of such an event as an intercollegiate debate between men from England's oldest and Canada's oldest universities?

FIRST BOOK WRITTEN BY THE CAVEMAN

Dr. Lomer Traces Modern Book From Original

PRIMITIVE ART

Seats in Arts Building of Mediaeval Type

The R. V. C. Sigma Society held its first regular meeting in Room 105 R. V. C. with the president Miss Massey Bayly in the chair. After Miss Massey Bayly had welcomed the members of the Faculty and the new students to the society, she introduced Dr. Lomer of the Redpath Library who kindly consented to give an illustrated lecture to the society on Mediaeval Manuscripts of Books.

Dr. Lomer began his address by carrying his audience back 30,000 years to the age of the Cave-Man. Here was the first chapter in the history of our modern book. On the walls of these caves were found crude scratches and the pictures of such animals as bison and reindeer. The animals drawn on the walls were regarded by the cave-dwellers as deities because these animals furnished food and clothing for men.

In 2,000 B. C. came the second chapter of this history, in which it was found another kind of hand-writing which also has a religious background. This chapter is found in ancient Egypt, the land of contrasts, of aridity and fertile soil. This writing both engraved on granite and written on papyrus. The walls of Egyptian temples and tombs are in reality the leaves of a Nubian book. Engraved on the granite walls are found Egyptian tombs "papyrus" or "Books of the Dead" are found. These books were written on whatever materials were skins of animals. Most of these writings have religious backgrounds and depict some deity such as Thoth, the Egyptian God of wisdom, who was the inventor of art, science, speech and letters.

In more recent times the monks in monasteries were the book makers of the world. The monks had a taste for literature and the cloister they had the time necessary for the making of books. These mediaeval scribes, in their book-making, used the Roman language and Roman characters, and they gave to the world the first bound volumes. These books were usually bound in leather ornamented with gold or brass bosses but sometimes these book-covers were made of metal with insets of jewels and gold. These books were beautifully written and their pages were adorned with gold and bright colours, around the margins of the books were drawings and scroll work. Some of these drawings were strangely inconsistent a mediaeval monk had no compunction in turning an animal's tail into a vine or in creating animals whose species have never been seen.

These monks, like nature herself, had a horror of empty spaces, even their capital letter were filled with pictures. A lantern slide showed how one ingenious monk had made the capital letter A by showing Christ washing a disciple's feet. In mediaeval times books were very scarce and regarded as great treasures. Many of the monasteries had a special treasure-room for their books while book were chained to the reading tables or shelves of the library. In monasteries where books were scarce, on the Monday before Lent of each year, one book was given to each monk which he studied during the year and returned a year from that day.

All books were copied by hand and in a monastery a special room was set aside for this purpose. Each monk had a special stall at the side of the room where he copied his text, monks were not allowed to speak in this room and if a monk needed vellum or other material he held up his hand and the librarian supplied him. If he wished to change his text he made a sign to the librarian. If he wished a religious text book, he made the sign of the cross, if he wished a pagan book he imitated a dog scratching his ear.

Lantern slides of many monasteries and mediaeval colleges were shown. In showing a slide of one of the lecture rooms at Navarre college, Dr. Lomer drew attention to the fact that the seats were of the same style as those employed today in several rooms of the Arts Building. The fact that the Arts Building furniture is an exact copy of these antiques is not always appreciated by the students.

In concluding his address Dr. Lomer invited his audience to examine several copies of 15th century books which he had with him.

Miss Massey Bayly thanked the speaker for his novel and instructive address. Delicious refreshments were then served in the Common Room to the members of the society and the guests.

The members of the society were very pleased to have as their guests of the afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Harkness, Dr. and Mrs. Perrin, Dr. and Mrs. college debate between men from England's oldest and Canada's oldest universities?

One of the Thundering Thousands.

ELECTRICIANS TO PLAN PROGRAMME

Electrical Clubs Expect Big Turnout—Election of Officers.

The McGill Electrical Club is scheduled to awake at five o'clock this afternoon and vitalize itself into activity for the session of 1923-24.

The Electrical Club was organized in 1908, its avowed intention being, by means of inspection trips, papers by prominent men, social gatherings and the like, to make easier the way of electrical men as they come to the big transition from college life to the cold facts of practical engineering. For the first six years of its existence, the Electrical Club thrived and a most successful sequence of lectures and tours seems to have been held during the years of the war, the club was not so active.

There are at hand, to visit, a variety of plants, including hydro-electric stations, car shops, telephone exchanges, etc. and celebrated engineers are only too willing to address the meetings.

The gathering at five tonight is an opportunity for the electrical men to get together and show, by their numbers, if in no other way, that they mean business and that this will be a banner year for the McGill Electric Club.

It was brought to the attention of the first and second year men that activities of the club are not confined to the men of the upper years but that all who are interested in the giant field of practical electrical engineering are welcomed as members.

It is hoped that every third and fourth year "electrical" will be present tonight as well as all interested men of lower years. The most important item of business is the election of officers.

ENGLISH RUGBY TEAM TO PLAY AT STADIUM

After three weeks of strenuous training, a strong well-balanced team has been picked to represent McGill in the game against the Montreal English Rugby Team.

The latter at present hold the McTier Cup, a handsome trophy emblematic of the Championship of Eastern Canada in British Rugby. The first challenger, Ottawa English Rugby Team, were defeated last Saturday by the defender of the Cup, in a close game of 8-6. The Montreal team have been somewhat handicapped in regard to facilities for practices, so that McGill has a decided advantage in condition; and will press Montreal hard throughout the game. Montreal will not relinquish the cup without a game struggle, certain brilliant players. Are liable to score for them. McGill depends on team work and condition and expects certain players to show up well.

The McGill team which will play on Saturday is composed of the following players:—

Three-quarters Marpole, McDonald, Cooper, Blundell, Holman.

Half-backs Wyse, Beaton.

Forwards McLean, McKinnon, Brown, Walter, Wilson, Hart, MacDermid.

Apparently, on observing our fair Freshettes, they have attained the peak of perfection.

Eve, Miss Hurlbutt, Mlle. Touren, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Irwin, Prof. Derrick, Prof. Dawson, Dr. Bierler and Mr. Noad as well as a goodly representation of recent R. V. C. graduates.

At a short business session of the society previous to Dr. Lomer's address Miss Kyle of first year was unanimously elected a assistant secretary-treasurer of the society.

MONTREAL BRANCH OF E.I.C. MEETS

Engineering Institute of Canada Heard Good
Address

An illustrated lecture on "Fuel Economizers" by Mr. Hessford of the E. Green Co. (England) was given at last night's meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Mr. Hessford's paper gave a sketch of the history of this branch of Mechanical Engineering from the first crude developments in 1810 to the modern plants in which the Economizers have been shown to save hundreds of thousands of dollars.

In his paper Mr. Hessford made special reference to Mr. Nicholson, formerly a McGill lecturer, telling of the great value to the industry, of his researches on the "Transference of Heat from Gases to Liquids in Boilers" a lively discussion followed.

These meetings are always of interest to the McGill "engineers" as they are not only instructive but give an excellent opportunity to meet the prominent engineers of Montreal.

MARITIMERS TO MEET IN STRATHCONA HALL

For the past few years the Maritime Club has been numbered among one of the active clubs on the Campus. This year it is hoped it will be no exception. All those who hail from Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island are expected to gather in Strathcona Hall on Monday at five o'clock.

The purpose of this meeting will be to elect officers for the coming year and discuss plans for the future.

This club has held a high position in college activities in the past and it is expected that all Maritimers will make its future a success.

Radium recovered with electroscope.

Five milligrams of radium, which had been lost, were recovered recently for Dr. E. O. Bauer of Middletown by Professor S. J. M. Allen of the Physics Department of the Cincinnati University.

An electroscope, an instrument used in detecting the presence of radium, belonging to the University, was used by Professor Allen to aid in the search. The radium, encased in a silver capsule one-quarter of an inch long and about the thickness of a darning needle, had been used by Dr. Bauer in treating patients.

Accordingly, Professor Allen first made a careful search of the doctor's office with the electroscope. But no trace of radium was registered by the action of the instrument in the office, house, garage, or motor car belonging to Dr. Bauer.

However, when the electroscope was placed above a concrete bin at the rear of the garden, where the debris from the office was placed, a decided movement of the gold leaf detector in the electroscope was noted, and therefore it was known that the radium was somewhere in the bin, probably having been thrown out through carelessness.

Finding the radium among the contents of the bin was somewhat like finding a needle in a haystack.

The school question, which is of paramount importance at the present time, will be the main topic of the discussion and the recognized ability of the speakers as well as their competence to deal adequately with this question will assure an interesting meeting.

The Maccabean Circle, which is affiliated with the Intercollegiate Menorah Association, exists for the study and advancement of Jewish culture and learning. The meeting is essentially for students and all are free to express their opinions.

During the course of the meeting, Mr. Gerald Fels will render a piano solo.

Mammoth Tooth Found
At Washington.

A tooth six inches long, and as wide, examined in excavating the basement of a bookstore at the State College of Washington, has been identified as that of a Siberian Woolly Mammoth. The scientists said the name of this creature was Elephas Primabensis. It stood nine feet high at the shoulders. Dr. Solon Shedd said. It is supposed to have reached North America by way of Alaska and ranged through British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, and east to the Atlantic coast. No other bones were found with the tooth, which will be placed in the geological museum of the college.

debris was placed near the electroscope, which did not give positive results until the sixth basketful was brought near it.

The contents of this basket were then taken by handful, to be tested, and at last the tiny capsule of radium was recovered in the fourteenth or fifteenth test made.
